

INSTRUCTIONS FOR APPLYING TO THE ENGLISH M.A. PROGRAM
APPLICATION DEADLINE: JANUARY 1

Due to the COVID-19 situation, GRE scores are optional for Fall 2022 applicants. Applicants who wish to submit scores may upload their GRE Test Taker's Score Report with their other application items.

Applicants are responsible for ensuring that all application materials are received by the deadline of January 1.

Submit the following items to Graduate Division. See the Submitting Your Application page of their website (<https://manoa.hawaii.edu/graduate/content/submitting-your-application>) for links to the online application and Supplemental Documents Upload Website.

Questions about items 1-4 should be directed to Tammie Egloria (wliang@hawaii.edu) of Graduate Division.

1. The Graduate Admissions Application. Select “English” as the program. Our concentrations (e.g., Creative Writing) are not listed on the application’s dropdown menu but you can indicate your concentration in your Statement of Objectives.
2. The admissions application fee
3. Transcripts from each postsecondary institution you have attended. Unofficial copies are acceptable for the admissions application, but admitted students must submit official transcripts in order to enroll at UHM. Graduate Division sets a minimum GPA of 3.0. If you do not meet this minimum you should address this in your Statement of Objectives (item 5, below).
4. Certain applicants may be required to submit the following items:
 - Residency Declaration Form (applicants who qualify to pay resident rate tuition)
 - Confidential Financial Statement Form (international applicants only)
 - Official TOEFL or IELTS or Duolingo exam scores (international applicants only).

Questions about items 5-8 should be directed to Valerie Jun (vjun@hawaii.edu) of the English Department. You may submit a CV if you wish. Any other additional items will not be considered.

5. A Statement of Objectives. In evaluating applications, we place a great deal of weight on your statement, which is your chance to give the admissions committee a clear sense of why you want a master’s degree in English, which concentration you are interested in, why you have chosen our program in particular, and what you hope to gain from your studies. We recommend that you refer to our website (<http://www.english.hawaii.edu/>) to familiarize yourself with our program and the concentrations we offer. Your statement should be one single-spaced page.

6. Three letters of recommendation, preferably from professors from whom you have recently taken courses in your field. These letters should assess your abilities and achievements, and they should evaluate your potential for success in our program. For your letters of recommendation, you should choose professors who know your work well: a general statement of approval is worth much less than a precise and detailed account of what kind of work you have done and what kinds of abilities you have demonstrated. It is usually helpful to your recommenders if you provide them with a brief curriculum vitae and a copy of your statement of objectives.

If you are not able to obtain letters from professors, we will accept letters from employers. However, be aware that such letters often do not provide the information that the admissions committee needs to best evaluate your potential for graduate study in English. Although your recommenders may be able to attest to your writing abilities, they may not be familiar enough with your ability to interpret or analyze a text, or other such skills that are best assessed in an English class.

Use the Supplemental Documents Upload Website to send prompts to your letter writers; as a courtesy to your writers, do this well in advance of the application deadline. As the deadline approaches, check the status of your letters on the upload site; it is your responsibility to ensure that your letter writers follow through.

Creative writing applicants: At least one letter of recommendation should attest to your abilities in analytical writing.

7. A critical writing sample. Submit a single critical essay (one that involves analytical and interpretive writing and includes outside sources) that you have written that demonstrates your ability to do graduate work in English. The sample should be your best work and does not need to relate to your intended area of study. The critical sample should be 8-12 pages in length (including end notes and Works Cited pages), double-spaced, with one-inch margins and pages numbered. A Works Cited page must be included. Writing samples that do not adhere to this format may be returned. Although the critical writing sample is a required application item, it is not as heavily weighted as your Statement of Objectives and letters of recommendation.
8. If you are planning to do a creative thesis, you must also submit a creative writing sample illustrating your creative work in the genre of your choice. The creative writing sample should be 15-20 pages in length, with one-inch margins and pages numbered. Your name should appear on the first page. Fiction samples should be double-spaced, but poetry samples need not be. If multiple works (multiple short stories, poems, or a mix of the two) are submitted, the page count should not exceed 20, and a table of contents should be included. Writing samples that do not adhere to this format may be returned. Spoken word poets are encouraged to also submit an audio file to accompany the written works. Your creative writing sample is key to your admission to the creative writing concentration.

If, in the event that you are not accepted to the creative writing concentration, you would like to be considered for another concentration (composition and rhetoric, literary studies, or cultural studies in Asia/Pacific) you should state this clearly and detail your interests in your Statement of Objectives. In addition, at least one letter of recommendation should attest to your abilities in analytical writing.

Check your email regularly around the application deadline, as this is how you will be notified of missing or problematic application items which must be addressed immediately. You will receive status updates from two offices: from Graduate Division regarding items 1-4 above, and from the English Department regarding items 5-8. Once our department has received all items (1-8) you will receive an email confirming that your application is complete. While we appreciate hearing from you, please understand that excessive inquiries about your application status will slow down the admission process.

The official notification of your admissions decision will come from Graduate Division in late March, either via a FileDrop email or via postal mail.

Questions? Continue reading for answers to frequently asked questions. If you have further questions, email Valerie Jun, Assistant Director of Graduate and Undergraduate Programs, at vjun@hawaii.edu.

English MA Admissions Frequently Asked Questions

Who is eligible to apply?

The following statement is excerpted from Graduate Division's Admissions Standards webpage: To be eligible, an applicant must hold or expect to hold prior to matriculation a bachelor's degree from a regionally accredited U.S. college or university, or an equivalent degree from a recognized non-U.S. institution of higher education. At minimum, the applicant needs to demonstrate above average academic performance (B average, usually a 3.0 on a 1.0-4.0 scale) for undergraduate course work and for any post-baccalaureate or graduate course work. Because the number of qualified applicants exceeds the number of spaces available, admission is competitive. Meeting minimum admissions standards does not guarantee admission.

What is the minimum GPA requirement? Minimum GRE score?

Graduate Division sets a minimum GPA of 3.0. Our department does not set a minimum GRE score, as our admissions committee evaluates applications holistically. Your Statement of Objectives, letters of recommendation, and (if applicable) creative writing sample typically weigh more heavily in admission decisions than GPA and GRE scores. For applicants who have not had extensive course work in English, the committee will give greater consideration to grades in English classes and GRE scores in order to gain a greater sense of the applicant's skills in English studies. Note that the admissions committee puts weight on the verbal and analytical writing GRE scores, not the quantitative score.

My GRE scores are over 5 years old. Do I have to retake the GRE?

We will accept GRE scores over 5 years old as long as you can provide a copy of your Test Taker's Score report. Upload the PDF to the Supplemental Documents Upload Website.

I earned my previous degree in a field other than English. Can I still apply to the program?

Yes, in the past we have accepted students from other disciplines, particularly those that require critical skills similar to those developed in English degrees, if their applications were strong enough. Your statement of objectives should explain why you would like to pursue this degree and how it would fit into your career plans. You would need an excellent creative writing sample and high scores on the Verbal and Analytical Writing sections of the GRE. The GRE Subject Test in Literature is advisable but not required. Finally, it would be most helpful if your three letters of recommendation were from professors in English, or closely related fields, who could attest to your ability to do graduate level work in the discipline.

Individuals who are unsure of whether they would qualify for admission often choose to first enroll in graduate English classes as a post-baccalaureate unclassified (PBU) student. See the What is a PBU Student? section at the end of this FAQ sheet.

How many applications do you receive each year? How many are accepted?

We receive roughly 30 MA each year. The number of applicants admitted depends on the strength of the pool, but approximately 18-22 MA applicants are offered admission.

How much is tuition? Housing?

Tuition charts are posted on the Registrar's website:

https://manoa.hawaii.edu/records/tuition_fees/tuition.html

See Student Housing Services for housing information: <https://manoa.hawaii.edu/housing/>

Do you have teaching assistantships available? How do I apply for a position?

All applicants are automatically considered for teaching assistantship positions; there are no additional steps to apply. Positions are awarded to the highest-ranking applicants as determined by our admissions committee, so awards are fully dependent upon the strength of your application. For more details on assistantships, see the Financial Aid section of the English Department website: <http://english.hawaii.edu/graduate-program/financial-aid/>

I missed the application deadline. What can I do in the meantime?

The English Department only admits students for the fall semesters. Individuals who miss the application deadline often choose to enroll as post-baccalaureate unclassified (PBU) students and take graduate English courses while waiting for the next admission cycle.

What is a PBU student?

Post-baccalaureate unclassified (PBU) students are students who enroll to take classes at UHM but are not admitted to a specific degree program. PBU students are allowed to enroll in graduate English courses (with the exception of ENG 605 and 625) with the approval of the instructor and Graduate Director. These courses can later be transferred toward the degree if the student is admitted to the graduate program.

Enrolling as a PBU allows students to demonstrate their abilities in a graduate level English class, become familiar with the faculty and program, and gives them the opportunity to request letters of recommendation from English professors.

Details on how to apply as a PBU can be found on Graduate Division's website:

<https://manoa.hawaii.edu/graduate/applying-as-a-pbu-student/>